Parliament for Northern Ireland (Ulster) Formally Opened Today in Belfast

GEORGE DECLARES HE COULDN'T SEND DEPUTY

"I Have Watched Ireland With Constant Sympathy," the King Says

(International News Service) BELFAST, IRELAND, June 22.—"A new era is opening," King George told the northern Ireland (Ulster) parliament today in a speech formally inaugurating this new law-making body.

The speech, breathed the ardent wish that the attempt to solve the Irish problem now being made through the new home rule bill would prove successful.

"For all who love Ireland, as I do with all my heart, this is a profoundly moving occasion in the Irish history," said the king.

The king, referred to the happy days he had spent in Ireland as a midshipman in the British navy while he was Prince of Wales.

"I have watched Ireland with constant sympathy ever since," continued George. "I couldn't have allowed myself to give Ireland, by deputy alone, my earnest prayers and good wishes for the new era which is now opening. Therefore I came in person as head of the empire to inaugurate this parliament and I came with deep-felt hope."

The city was an armed camp when King George and Queen Mary arrived to participate in the opening of the new parliament. It was the first time in 19 years that King George had visited Belfast.

The royal yacht Victoria and Albert escorted by a squadron of warships, came into the harbor in the grey dawn and immediately dropped anchor. The yacht was surrounded by a cordon of men-of-war, while others patrolled the bay and waters outside.

Blue Sunday Fight Goes to High Court

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 22.—The supreme court will be called upon to determine whether or not soft drink stands and ice cream parlors may be operated in Montgomery without violating the state Sunday-closing law. G. B. Arrington and seven other persons accused of keeping open shop on Sunday were convicted of violating the law and fined ten dollars and costs by the court of common pleas Tuesday. They immediately appealed to the circuit court and if convicted there will appeal to the court of appeals and if necessary to the Supreme court.

Health Department Still Fighting All Diseases of the Fever Family

Midsummer finds the Health Department still carrying on an active campaign against typhoid fever and kindred diseases that affect the human family. In our fight against these diseases we are emphasizing the importance of going right to the very bottom of the whole affair; that is, the prevention of the spread of these diseases from those infected with the causative organism to the healthy individual. This is largely done by the erection and use of sanitary toilets.

Another phase of this protection against typhoid and paratyphoid fevers is being endorsed by the Health Department, and that is anti-typhoid inoculation. This vaccine is harmless. Three doses are injected under the skin of the arm at intervals of about one week. After each dose there may be slight swelling and

Reward Offered for Person Who Damaged School

Mayor James A. Nelson, of Decatur, today offered a reward of $25 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who entered the Decatur negro school and did considerable damage to desks and other furnishings.

The depredation, apparently, was the act of wantonness, little of value being taken from the building.

LOCAL LABOR BODY SUPPORTS GOMPERS FOR LABOR LEADER

In the local election in the Central Labor union last night, Samuel Gompers won over John L. Lewis for president of the American Federation of Labor. This action came following a wire to W. R. McCluskey, State Labor Vice-President from Denver, asking that the local Central Labor Union hold a meeting for the purpose of deciding and wiring its preference to the American Federation of Labor annual convention now in session at Denver, for president of the federation.

President T. J. Martin called a meeting of the Central Body last night and presided. When the question was put to the delegates, as to whether they wished to retain Samuel Gompers as president or elect John L. Lewis, now president of the United Mine workers of America as chief executive in his stead, a lively discussion arose.

Those who supported Mr. Lewis, took the ground that he was the logical candidate, because he was in favor of government ownership and democratic control of railroads a measure that had carried in the last annual convention, and which was very popular in the convention this year. The claims of Lewis were presented by W. R. McCluskey and H. C. Hutchison.

In support of President Gompers, his record was reviewed at length, and the delegates earnestly advised to remain loyal to "the grand old man of Labor." The claims of Mr. Gompers were first upheld by W. G. Gentry, followed by D. C. Jones and J. H. Napps. As Mr. Gentry made the first speech he was given the last rejoinder and at the close of his speech a standing vote was taken, which showed that Gompers won over Mr. Lewis by a substantial majority. The Secretary H. C. Hutchison, was directed to wire President William L. Harrison, of the Alabama Federation of Labor and Lewis Bowen, Secretary of the same organization both delegates in the Denver convention, to support Mr. Gompers, which instructions Mr. Hutchison carried out last night.

PUBLIC WILL GET DATA REGARDING PRODUCTION COST AND COAL PRICES

Operators and Governor Announce Result of Conference at Capital

PURPOSE TO PREVENT PROFITEERING ON FUEL

Close Check Will be Maintained on Marketing Cost Figures

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 22.—Consumers of coal in all sections of Alabama will be given information about the prices of coal at the mines, the cost of transporting it and the approximate expense in handling it up to the time it is placed in the coal bins of the ultimate purchasers.

Following a conference at the executive department between a committee representing the operators of domestic coal mines of the Birmingham district and the governor, which continued a good part of Tuesday morning, Governor Kilby announced an agreement was reached whereby the coal operators will name a special committee which will work with a special committee appointed by the governor for the purpose of determining the approximate price which should be paid for coal by consumers in the various sections of the state and at the various seasons of the year. The committees will be named at once and the publicity campaign which is intended to inform the people of the situation regarding coal will be started without delay.

The purpose of the publicity campaign will be to prevent profiteering. The coal operators propose to determine what is the cost of producing the coal at the mines, the cost of transporting the commodity to the various sections of the state and the cost of handling the product by the retailers, allowing the retailer and operators a reasonable profit for their operations. When the figures have been made by the committees, a representative of the governor will be named to check them up in order that any errors may be found. Roy R. Cox, chief clerk of the state board of control and economy and former assistant state fuel administrator, has been designated by the governor for the latter duty.

Governor Kilby said he was hopeful that this agreement will be the means of eliminating much of the profiteering, about which there was complaint last winter. Coal operators have contended that the prices they have made at the mines have been on the cost of mining the coal plus a reasonable profit and that if unreasonable prices have been charged in various sections of the state the fault has been with those who obtained the coal after it left the mines. They now propose to keep a close check on those who are responsible for the delivery of the coal to the ultimate consumers in order that profiteering, if any, may be placed on the proper persons.

The special committee came to Montgomery to confer with the governor following the latter's statement that there was profiteering last year and that the state government will not stand for it again. B. R. Roden was chairman of the committee which conferred with the governor and among others with him were George F. Peter, W. S. Lovell, E. A. Holmes and A. W. Vogtle.

Governor Silent on Sunday Closing

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 22.—Governor Kilby today refused to make a statement regarding to Sunday closing agitation on here.

Chief Law Enforcement Officer Conrad Austin was not so non-committal. "I think those arrested should have been tried and found guilty in each case and not just in one case each," said Austin. "As it now stands it necessitates me placing men on duty again next Sunday."

Local People Bring in Well in Tennessee

C. A. Leftwich, local automobile dealer, and one of the principal holders of shares in a lease on property near Fayetteville, Tenn., was advised today that an oil well with a capacity of 50 barrels or better daily has been brought in on the property.

Other local persons interested in the venture include: Judge Thomas W. Wert, C. W. Rutledge, R. A. Barry, Gordon McCall and Rex Fenlay. The well is located approximately ten miles from Fayetteville, Mr. Leftwich stated.

MITCHELL'S TRIAL WILL BE HELD IN FLORENCE JULY 5

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 22.—Alabama's supreme court will hear the impeachment case against Sheriff George W. Mitchell, of Lauderdale county, at Florence July 5. Announcement was made today that the court had decided to go to Florence because of the greater convenience to the large number of witnesses who have been summoned to testify for the state and defense.

A large number of subpoenas have been prepared for service on persons who are desired as witnesses and officers of the state will spend much of the time until the day of the trial, in Lauderdale county in serving the subpoenas.

In hearing the case away from the capitol the supreme court will be doing something it has done only one other time. When Judge J. B. Tally of Jackson county was called before the bar of the supreme court on articles of impeachment the court broke a precedent by hearing the case at Huntsville. Since that time every case brought before the supreme court has received consideration at the capitol.

ADMIRAL SIMS IS BACK IN AMERICA

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 22.—Wearing civilian clothes featured by a soft green hat, Admiral William Sims appeared in the best of health, arrived on the liner Olympic today and without any demonstrations of hostility and but a few of friendship marking his arrival, proceeded immediately by automobile to the Pennsylvania station to take a train for Washington.

The only statement he made here indicated he has no fear of having his distinguished naval career abruptly ended as a result of his "jackass" speech in London which brought about his recall by Secretary of the Navy Denby.

"After seeing the Secretary of the Navy," he said just before his train was due to depart, "I expect to go to Newport to resume my duties as president of the war college."

IRISH "BOYCOTT" ADVOCATES LOSE

(International News Service)

DENVER, COL., June 22.—The Irish "boycott" supporters lost the first round of their fight in the convention of the American Federation of Labor today when the convention, by an overwhelming vote, sustained President Samuel Gompers in his ruling that the amendment offered yesterday to the sub-irish resolution, demanding a boycott of all British made goods, was out of order.

MUD BATTLE FINDS TWINS ON LONG END OF 3 TO 0 COUNT, 2 NEW MEN IN DEBUT

J. Pluv Wanted Game Called Off, But His Hints Are Disregarded

FOUR HITS WITHOUT A RUN, TRIPLET RECORD

Leroy Whiffs Three in First, But Allows One Earned Run

J. Pluv hinted strongly of his preference for "no-game" yesterday but his hints fell on deaf ears. Later he demanded it and backed his ultimatum with downpours of wetness, but even his earnestness failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the Twin-Triplet aggregations and they played anyway, to the Tri-Cities contingent's dismay, the Twins winning 3 to 0 in a mud battle.

The beginning of the stag dance on the slippery field found Moseley opposing Leroy on the mound. The ending of the shimmy found the same hurlers doing pitching duties, which is rather an unusual event in these days of heavy clotting.

Not content with losing the game and thereby the leadership of the league the Triplets hung up a new league record in the seventh inning when they got four clean bingles without coining a run. It happened thusly. Elmo slammed a safety to center and shimmied to first through the mud. Nathan made the mistake of failing to strike out and hit to Spitz. A double play followed, Spitz to McDuff to Eaks. Had Nathan whiffed only one out would have resulted.

With the bags cleaned and the count 3-0, Leroy displayed a tendency to fatten his batting average even at the expense of his teammates and drove a safety through short. Flack singled to center and Leroy drew up at second.

Romine drew the fourth hit of the inning with a blow to right, but a relay from D. McClain to McDuff to Johnston nailed Leroy at the plate.

The Twins began scoring in the first. Spitz drew life on a base on balls. McDuff struck out and Eaks emulated the example of his chief. In the meantime Spitz swiped second. Washington crossing the Delaware had nothing on this drive through the mud. C. McClain, who has been displaying a tendency to hit in the pinches of late slapped a single to Riddle and Spitz came home. Carter whiffed, Leroy striking out all of the three put out victims of the inning, but allowing one earned run. That was somewhat of a record in itself.

The Twins got two more in the third and incidentally D. McClain, brother of the local guardian of the center garden, won the hearts of the local fans on the initial appearance in the local line up of the former Howard star.

McDuff started trouble for Leroy by singling through Flack, nearly tearing the fingers off the diminutive shortstop of the visitors. Eaks retired after three healthy, but altogether ineffectual swings. C. McClain was safe on Flack's error, the lone miscue of the game, McDuff taking second. Carter forced McClain at second, McDuff going to third. With two on and two gone, Dewey drove a long triple down the right field foul line and sent Mac and Carter across.

The advent of Spitznagle and Dewey McClain into the local's line up added worlds of pep to the Twin contingent and they not only gave Moseley errorless, but at times sensational support. Spitz handled ten chances at short, Dewey got three hits and Clayton McClain went to the center field wall for Curtis' drive with

MARSHALL DAM WEAKENED AND RESIDENTS FLEE

WITNESSES AVER BRAND TOOK NO PART IN SHOOTING

(International News Service)

JASPER, ALA., June 22.—With witnesses for the defense being heard rapidly, indications today are that the case of John Brand, charged with the murder of Earl Edgill last September, will be ready for the jury Thursday afternoon or Friday.

The testimony of Thomas Richards, which was yesterday refused by the court, was later admitted. He said that he was looking at Edgill when the latter began firing, saw him walking after the first shot had been fired and later saw him fall.

Strong evidence for the defense was offered by A. Giffin, who lived a short distance from Patton Junction, when he was on the stand. He declared that he reached Patton Junction a few minutes before the tragedy and was standing on the railway platform station talking to Brand when the shooting began. Brand was not armed and took no part in the shooting, witness said.

Mrs. W. L. King also told of seeing Brand unarmed shortly before the shooting. Ann Powell a negro, swore that the deputies with Edgill started the shooting and that Edgill fired the first shot.

A special term of court will start here July 27 and it is planned at that time to place Brand on trial for the murder of Leon Adler, who was killed at the same time that Edgill received wounds from which he died.

ALBANY STREETS TO BE REPAIRED

A carload of asphalt was purchased by the Albany city council in its regular meeting last night and will be used in repairing streets here. It is the intention of the council to place all paved streets in good condition. W. H. Sorber, chief of the fire department, was named as supervisor of the repair work.

The public property committee was instructed by the council to receive bids for improvements to be made on the school buildings here.

Acceptance of the completed portions of the new street paving was held up by the council pending the return of Mayor E. C. Payne, who is in the east on business. A balance of $6,000 now remains to be paid the contractors for completed work, it was stated at the meeting.

MORE SUBMARINES SENT TO BOTTOM

ON BOARD THE U. S. S. RAIL, OFF THE VIRGINIA CAPES, June 22.—Vestiges of the former terror of the German undersea warfare went to an ignominious end today at the hands of the United States navy.

The ex-German submarine U-140 and UB-48 are today lying at anchor 60 miles off Cape Charles waiting for the guns of American destroyers to send them to the bottom.

Today's destruction is in accordance with a decision reached by the conference of ambassadors which provides that all of the ex-German submarines shall be at the bottom of the sea July 1.

(International News Service) DENVER, Col., June 22.—Fear that the Marshall dam, 33 miles north of Denver, would give way, drove hundreds of residents of that town into the hills early today. The Marshall dam empounds several millions of gallons of water. A 200 foot section of the reservoir became weakened Tuesday night and flood warnings were sounded down the valley.

(International News Service) CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., June 22.—After a night of terror, during which time it was feared that the disaster of 1919 would be repeated, the storm off here, subsided this morning. No damage was done by the high winds and the tide was running only four feet high.

Last reports from the weather bureau are that another storm is now brewing in the gulf between Galveston and this city, but it is not known where it will strike.

(International News Service) HOUSTON, Tex., June 22.—The steamship William H. Doherty is in distress in the tropical hurricane now threatening the gulf coast and was sending S. O. S. calls this morning. Fort Brown radio station picked up the following message from the ship: "Propeller lost in storm off Cape Cavello. Send help as soon as possible."

Woman is Shot By Jealous Wife

A young woman who said her name was Sarah Ward, a roomer in the house, said to have been the object of Mrs. Campbell's anger, escaped and fled.

FINANCIAL RELIEF FOR THE FARMERS

Agricultural land is cultivated, improved and maintained to the best permanent effect when it is owned by the farmers who work it. And proprietorship is one of the strongest incentives for keeping ambitious citizens in the country. These advantages, with many of the conveniences obtainable in the city, should make farming and rural life, which have their own charms, decidedly interesting and profitable.

Two important steps to afford necessary financial accommodations to farmers have been taken recently by the Federal Government. The Federal Reserve act has been amended so that national banks may lend money on unencumbered farm land for five years. In connection with the Federal Farm Bank System the Government is arranging to provide a revolving fund of $50,000,000 and to appropriate $100,000,000 from the earnings of the Federal Reserve System. This amount of $150,000,000 will be in addition to the $40,000,000 of Land Bank bonds issued in April, and of which all but $1,500,000 have been sold.

The base of each loan is still held at fifty per cent of the value of the land, but it is now permissible for any individual to borrow as much as $25,000.

In time the immense subsidy furnished by the Government will be reduced through the investments of private capital in land bank bonds. But the Government is to be commended for manifesting generosity which will give the farmer the accommodations which he needs, revise interests in agriculture, better agricultural conditions, and increase farm production. The farmer is the mainstay of the nation.

SENATOR BORAH'S REVIEW OF THE BOOK "THE NEXT WAR"

Viewed from any angle one of the most curious men now in public life, is William E. Borah, Senator from Idaho. In his latest writings and speeches he is appearing as the arch enemy of war. But he was the original bitter ender against the only concerted effort ever made by the great nations of the world to bring an end to war. He was the arch enemy of the League of Nations. But he has never offered any thing in its place, unless the proposed disarmament plan as between England, Japan and the United States should be considered in a most charitable light. As a matter of fact Borah's motives in that move have been seriously questioned. And in support of this position he has been quoted as saying that he advanced that disarmament plan "to put England in a hole."

This expression tallies with the words of some of his critics who say Borah's racial tendencies run so strongly against Anglo-Saxonism, that his main thought is to divide the two great English speaking nations. It is note worthy in this connection that the Western Senator raised no objection to the George Harvey speech made recently in London. How Mr. Borah can continue to be the enemy of all organized effort to prevent war, in view of a recent statement of his, made in reviewing the new book "The Next War," is past finding out, unless the crafty Senator has a nice little plan all his own, which he expects to spring on a waiting world at the psychological moment.

If Mr. Borah does not offer something more constructive and far reaching than disarmament between three world powers, his actions will not be considered as squaring with his words against war.

The Senator's arraignment of the horrors of war, to use the trite expression "beggars description." It is gripping and well worth the trouble to read it. He says:

"Indeed, 'the next war' is now really on. The firing lines are not yet actually formed and the line-up between the nations is not fully revealed. Put the preparation for war, the moods and passions of war, the burdens and misery of war, are now upon us and with us. And if we follow up the present program the other elements of war and the other conditions of war must immediately follow.

"With all the great nations preparing for war, employing their laboratories and the genius of science to perfect new instruments of destruction and death, actual fighting and open killing cannot long be postponed.

"And what kind of war will 'the next war' be? It will not be a war between armies alone, nor between certain parts of the population of the different countries. It will be a war in which nations will be arrayed against nations and peoples against peoples, in which the whole community, men, women and children, will be immediately and actually a part.

"No one can escape, the wife in her home, the children on the playground, the business man at his counter, will all be on, or within, the firing lines.

"We can judge something of the cost of 'the next war' by what this war cost.

"Conscription is the basis of modern militarism. General Smuts, prior to the conference at Versailles, said: 'I look upon conscription as the tap root of militarism; unless that is cut out, all our labors will eventually be in vain.' It was not cut out. Whatever may be said for conscription as a matter of military necessity, nevertheless it is the most sinister and successful method for lowering the standard of the physical and moral wellbeing of a people conceivable.

"In shuddering horror, let us open the book at the pages which reveal the methods and means now being matured by which 'the next war' is to be carried on. In the very midst of this Dantean hell of misery in which the human family is now plunged, the world is nevertheless dedicating its energies, its talents and its resources and its genius to the creation of still more horrible and all-encompassing instruments for the destruction of our fellow men.

"And in this race of lunacy, in preparation for that day of rivalry in which rapine and indiscriminate murder are to hold sway, when pestilence and disease shall be spread by the most scientific methods throughout whole communities and nations, our nation, dedicated to liberty and consecrated to Christianity, is leading the way.

"Welfare by disease-bearing bacilli is already preparing in the laboratories—inoculate your own army, and, if need be, the civilian population as infected insects, by vermin, or water, or by any well. Then by night-flying airplanes, by spies, by means ingenuity may suggest, scatter the germs among the enemy forces. In a few days you will have a sick enemy easily conquered.

"Major General Swinton is quoted as saying: 'The final form of human strife, as I regard it, is germ warfare. I think it will come to that, and so far as I can see, there is no reason why it should not. Liquid fire, Lewisite gas, disease germs, the bomb-carrying airplane, airplanes loaded with gas shells—nothing human, nothing civilized will be accepted. Savagery, hell-inspired savagery, and all being carried on, encouraged and perfected by the most advanced and the most Christian nations. Who can stop it?'

"Thus in every way and by every method and means which the ingenuity of man can contrive war means now the extermination of races, or in the end the shrinking back into utter barbarism.

"There is one proposition I presume we can all agree to and that is that any plan to be successful must have behind it an aroused, sustained and well directed public opinion."

HARVEY AS SEEN IN LIGHT OF HUGHES' DEFINITION

There is only one thing lacking about a recent article of Charles E. Hughes, as a knock out blow to George Harvey, the American Ambassador at London—it was written before Harvey disgraced himself—if such a thing was possible—and the American people, by making his now infamous Pilgrim Day speech. It can, therefore have no direct reference to the American Ambassador. Mr. Hughes' article was on what an American Ambassador ought to be, and the description he gives of an honorable bearer of such a high office, does not fit the performance of Mr. Harvey by any manner of means. Hughes wrote the article in question a few days after he was named Secretary of State, and while it is being used against Mr. Harvey quite freely, it would be more effective if it had been written by Mr. Hughes following the disreputable speech of Harvey. The Hughes opinion on an ideal Ambassador came out in the June Number of "The World's Work," and is given in part as follows:

"An American Ambassador, is the alter ego of the United States Government at the court to which he is assigned. . . . He explains America's position and shows her in her best light.

"Such being the case, it is necessary to select able and well-trained men for such important work—men particularly trained in the field of diplomacy. Errors and indiscretions on his part may involve us in war . . . and good judgment and diplomatic adroitness may prevent grave and serious misunderstandings. . . . The tasks to be accomplished are too important to be left to inexperienced hands. . . . A man must be thoroughly trained to succeed in any line. This applies no less to diplomacy than it does to other work."

Taking up the definitions and specifications of an "American Ambassador" as they come in his "World's Work" article, first can we think of Mr. Harvey as impersonating this country? Is our idea of Uncle Sam, that he be such an individual as Mr. George Harvey? It is superfluous, to ask it, but did the Pilgrim day speech "explain America's position?" And absurdity of absurdities did Harvey show Americans "in their best light?" Mr. Hughes says that "errors and indiscretions" of an Ambassador might involve his country in war. Although the errors of Mr. Harvey, up to this time have not been of a character to encourage war between this country and England, there is no telling when Harvey's repulsive manner, and loose ideas of honor may lead to strained relations. There is one saving circumstance however, against any great harm ever being done by Harvey, he will not in all likelihood, be taken very seriously in the future by an English audience. In view of the recent speeches of President Harding, and of Mr. Hughes, both against Harvey's ideals, and in the face of the unrelenting criticism that is being directed against him daily, in his native country, and because of the contempt in which he is held everywhere, it would seem that Ambassador Harvey's lot is indeed a sad one. He knows he is not wanted at home, and he doubtless realizes that unless he mends his ways—to use the language of diplomacy, he will soon "be persona non grata" at the court of St. James.

A former Russian prince admitted in a New York court that he was down to his last dollar. At that, he was better off than his sovietized fellow-countrymen. Being an ex-prince in New York, with his last dollar and his life, was preferable to being nobody in Russia, with nothing.

COTTON MARKET SOMEWHAT HIGHER

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 22.—The cotton market opened six to 22 points higher today. A better feeling was noted early and the demand was good especially for late months from trade interests, Southern wire houses and Liverpool.

Buying was induced by a firmer tone in securities and the over-sold condition of the staple after its recent serve decline.

Support was continued after the start and prices held firmly at a little above opening levels.

Fate of Negroes in Kilby's Hands

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Deatur Daily.)
MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 22.—Dan and Booker T. Whittle, negroes, under sentence to be hanged in the Conecuh county jail at Evergreen Friday for the murder of Colonel Saron, white, were recommended to Governor Kilby for commutation to life imprisonment in the penitentiary by two members of the state board of pardons Tuesday, while the third member voted not to interfere with the sentence imposed by the law. H. F. Lee, state auditor, and William P. Cobb, secretary of state, voted to recommend clemency on the ground of the uncertainty regarding the degree of the crime, while Harwell G. Davis, attorney-general, filed a minority report in which he said he did not see why the sentence should not be carried out.

Governor Kilby will make a thorough investigation for himself before a definite decision is made. The recommendation of the board of pardons is not binding upon him and he may adopt or refuse to accept the recommendation. The board made its report after an investigation which has been carried on for a week.

ALWAYS SOMETHING NEW.

When we attend the movies, which we do regularly, we always wait anxiously for the news reel or topical review. We like to keep track of what is going on in the world. While some othe features on the average movie show may not hold us entranced, we are always sure of something new, and we are certain to see the vital episodes of the world's news-dished up, hot off the griddle. And the best part of it is we are never disappointed. We know exactly what we are going to see. We saw our favorite news feel yesterday, and it ran exactly as follows:

Wellesley college girls rolling hoops. Canoeing on Bay at Copenhagen.

Battleships passing under Brooklyn bridge.

Count De Kay arriving from Europe.

Secretary of the Navy looking through porthole of battleship.

Living American flag made by Suawtucket school children.

Muskrats at play.

View of Charleston, N. C. from airplane.

Launching of freighter Chehopahopahoping at Seattle.

Close up of Miss Euphemia Mudge, who christened boat.

Drill of students at Hokum Military Academy.

Fire in Bone Collar Button Works at Hoopdale, Ind.

Miniature sailboats on lake in Central Park.

Making doughnuts by machinery.

The sugar profiteers cannot be accused of wasting their sweetness on the dessert, etc.

LINES ON A LOST LOVE.

Some years ago I loved a maid,
Ne'er had Ma Eve a fairer daughter,
An ardent court to her I paid;

To be my wife I oft besought her.

But when I begged her to be my own,
She frowned upon my ardent woo-

ing;
Yes, she flopped me in a matter of prone,

And told me there was nothing doing!

She's nearly 40 now and fat!
Her troth to another's plighted,
And fain would I inform her that

If she is happy, I'm delighted!

Let's Locate Your Trouble and Go After It—

Your case is not hopeless, you are probably "in a rut" temporarily. You are just as much a man or woman as you were a year ago. Your mental attitude may be all wrong. Perhaps you've tried, with other medicines, to correct the physical imperfections without success; and you may be unreasonably prejudiced now. Such thoughts will only tend to aggravate your trouble. Your mind and thoughts should be the greatest factors in the attainment of your desires. You CAN control your own mind. The "Story of the Cells" will tell you how to do it.

Stomach Troubles

The failure of perfect and complete action of the digestive system causes more than half the misery of the world. The stomach is an organ of CELLS that has not only its own work to do, but is frequently called upon to do work that should have been done before the food entered the stomach. A perfectly working stomach and digestive system makes it possible for a person to eat what he wants and all he wants. The importance of keeping the stomach cells in healthy condition cannot be emphasized too strongly. For upon this organ, or system, depends the health and vigor of the whole human body.

REGENERATOR

New Cell Stimulant
Taken night and morning, as directed, will keep the digestive system in proper condition. Special directions are included for chronic cases of indigestion or stomach trouble for which Regenerator will afford relief, and soon build up the strength and usefulness of the entire digestive system.

BILLIE BURKE'S NEW
PARIS AT ITS BEST.

(Delite Today.)

Paris aflutter with the spirit of the carnival season—brightly colored with streets in holiday dress, flags and bunting and almost buried in tons of confetti—this is the sort of Paris that is disclosed in "The Frisky Mrs. Johnson," Billie Burke's new Paramount picture which will be the feature at the Delite Theatre today.

It is a picture with the smart setting of the Ritz Tea Room and the atmosphere of the Boulevards; beautiful women in costly gowns and jewels; glimpses of the carnival itself, great crowds in costume, elaborately decorated floats. Comedy and drama are conspicuous elements of the story. Ward Crane is the leading man and others in the excellent cast include Huntly Gordon, Lumsden Hare and Jean de Briac.

A LINE O' CHEER

Cheer Up.

You've slipped a cog? Well, never mind, old chap.

All life is chancey, and the sad mishap.

Comes unto all. Remember in your pain.

That he who falls can always regain.

And though today be lost tomorrow's sun.

Holds forth new goals remaining to be won.

JOHN KENDRICK BANER.

Misses Sara Parham and Madeline White of Athens, are the attractive guests of Mrs. Hubert Aycock.

Miss Gladys Trotter of Athens is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. James Hill.

Mrs. J. T. Weatherly, Jr., and little son, Joe III, left Monday night for an extended visit to Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo.

Mrs. R. D. Sittason and Miss Gladys Garrison are spending the day in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. John McEachin of Decatur are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Lane, South Highlands. —Stanley Gorman left today for Decatur and Athens on a business trip. —Huntsville Times.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Ellis, of Birmingham, have been the guests of Mrs. G. W. Green. Mr. Ellis is the son of Rev. Ellis who was pastor of the First Methodist church for many years.

TO THE PROPERTY OWNERS OF DECATUR

Have you given the paving question the thought that you should?

Do you think that with our country in the midst of the worst business slump known for the last thirty years and with the bonds of our government selling way below par that the property owners of Decatur should burden themselves with a debt of $260,000.00?

With many of the property owners borrowing money at high rates of interest to pay taxes do you know what such a debt would mean to him? It would be nothing less than to confiscate his property. The principal product of this section is selling at a great loss to the farmer and many farmers have been forced to let their land sell for taxes. This kind of a debt calls for safe and sane thinking. The period of extravagance has passed.

Do you think that the cross streets on which the traffic is light and never will be heavy because they are not through streets, should be paved with as expensive a paving as you would want on the streets where the traffic is heavy?

Do you think that a royalty of 25c per square yard for the use of the word Warrenite would be worth $17,500.00 to the city of Decatur since all the patents on bituthylic have expired which would free us of that royalty.

The question of cost has not caused you any worry because it has never been brought to your attention and you are probably patiently waiting, thinking of course that you will know the cost before the bonds are sold and the contract is let.

Do you know that the paving under consideration will cost you from five to ten dollars per running foot as to the width of the street, that is if you are able to pay cash for your paving. Do you know that if you do not pay cash and have to pay the interest on the bonds which are to be retired in ten years that the cost of paving on a street for a fifty foot lot would increase from eight to the huge sum of thirteen dollars and sixty cents per running foot. Do you think that such a debt would enable you to find a ready sale for your property? Do you think that your property would increase in value that much in ten years?

Freight rates are the highest ever known and the cost of material that enters into this class of paving has decreased but little. Are you willing to pay these high freight rates and high material cost when they are entirely out of line with other commodities?

Would you know Warrenite paving if the street in front of your property were paved with it.

I wish to say that I have always favored paving and street improving but with conditions as they are now I think that it would be a very bad move for us to make.

Advt. R. P. McENTIRE.

LADY CURZON IS GRAND HOSTESS

Only London Hostess Now Giving Sumptuous Entertainments Like Those of Past.

Copyright 1921, by the Press Publishing Co. (The New York World).

LONDON, June 20.—An American woman, Marchioness (as she now is) Curzon of Kedleston, is the only London hostess who attempts entertainments on the grand pre-war scale.

She also is the only hostess with whom King George and Queen Mary have dined this season. This spring she entertained the King and Queen of Spain, the Crown Prince of Japan during his visit, and presently King Alfonso and Queen Victoria Eugenie will be her guests again.

The new Marchioness does everything in the most magnificent style, with remarkable taste, and makes most attractive and gracious hostess.

As entertaining now costs from two to four times what it formerly did, her outlay must be enormous.

The impression that the Marchioness brought a large fortune to her present husband from her former one is erroneous, as the latter left only enough to provide for his children.

Her brother Monroe Hinds, his wife and Gen. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt were among the guests at last night's royal party.

The King of Spain was expected here this week but for some unexplained reason his visit has been delayed. He recently sent his polo ponies over here to place them at the service of the English team, and he also intends to use them himself. He had bad luck to lose three on the journey, as they seem to have been neglected. Last year his journey was delayed also and when he came he was alone, so a domestic tiff was expected.

His frequent visits to London aren't at all appreciated by his subjects and excite much criticism in Spain, where it is thought he should be able to find as much enjoyment as he needs.

His second son, Don Jamie, is still here under treatment by an osteopath who has considerably improved his speech and hearing.

PERSONALS

Walter Roberts is visiting his grandmother at Columbia, Tenn.

Master Edward Thompson will return this week from Shelbyville, Tenn.

Clint Moore and Henry Arch Moore of Columbia were Twin City visitors yesterday.

NEWS OF HARTSELLE

Several out of town people spent of the live organizations of the town.

Sunday here the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Polytinsky, the occasion being the christening of the eight day old son of Mr. and Mrs. Polytinsky.

The guests were from Huntsville, Athens, Florence, Sheffield, Tusculum and Cullman, Rabbi Newman of Birmingham officiated. The infant was named Chas. Walker Polytinsky.

Several local friends of the host and hostess were invited to witness the ceremony, and a sumptuous dinner was served to the guests.

Fine rains have fallen all around this place, but up to this time partial showers have fallen here. Gardens are suffering greatly, and unless rain comes soon the tomato and bean crop will be a complete failure. Irish potatoes which promised fine a month ago were a failure, and many are relying on the fall planting for what they should have had in the spring.

The city is making some improvements on Barclay street, putting in new guttering and raising the street to an elevation that will carry the water to the guttering.

The meeting at the Baptist church which began last Sunday and is being conducted by Dr. McPherson of the Home Mission Board of Nashville, Tenn., is being largely attended and much interest is manifest this early in the services. The meeting will continue for two weeks or longer as the interest suggests. The pastor Rev. Bunyan Smith has done much preparation for this meeting, including prayer services for the past two weeks at the homes of members of the congregation. An all night prayer service was held at the church last Friday night which was participated in by a large part of the congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. Sim Orr and son Hal left Sunday for a two weeks visit to Mr. Orr's mother at Lewisburg Tenn. They motored through the country. While gone they will visit Mammoth Cave and other points in Tennessee and Kentucky.

Mrs. Brown Orr and little daughter of Hartshorne Oklahoma arrived Saturday to spend some time with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Hardwick. Mr. Orr is in the drug business at the above place going to that point several years ago.

Henry Gibson was at Albany yesterday where he had his tonsils removed by a specialist of that place.

Rev. C. W. Seals and wife, and daughter Miss Kathleen of Fort Payne are visiting relatives here and elsewhere in the county.

Miss Luverne Lovelady and Miss Kathleen Seals spent Tuesday at Albany the guests of relatives.

The local ball team will become active here this week when they take on games with Cullman and the American Legion team of Albany Wednesday and Thursday respectively. The team has been putting in some hard practice and they say they are after at least one of the scalps from the two games.

The blackberry crop that at one time promised to be cut very short indeed on account of the dry weather has come out greatly since the showery weather began and a full crop will be harvested, and berry pickers are to be seen in every direction in the mornings and late evenings.

The Knights of Pythias lodge here continues to be active and new members are initiated in the different ranks at each meeting. The lodge numbers now 125 members and is one

NEWS OF MOULTON AND LAWRENCE COUNTY

MOULTON, Jan. 22. (Special)—

The plans of the Lawrence County

Civic club seem to have come to naught, for the time being, at least.

The plan was to raise sufficient funds to secure State and Federal Aid. The funds were subscribed and action favorable was expected from the County Board of Revenue at its special meeting Monday. The majority of

Board of Revenue, however, was opposed to entering into any agreement that would bind it to payments covering a period of six or seven years.

Appreciation of the co-operation of the Albany Chamber of Commerce in the proposed plan is felt by those who hits A. Acton, Baker. Stolen bases

Smith. Pitching record—Hits of

Bass 1 inning 3. Struck out by King

2, by Freeman 2. Base on balls, Scott,

he is crazy; the only weapon he had

Wilson, Huxley. Left on bases Russellville 5, Columbia 6. Hit by pitched balls—Flowe. Time of game 1:30.

Umpire Thomas.

have had the matter in hand.

Last Saturday morning when Tom

Brewer, a farmer living six miles west of Moulton, went to feed his horses he found a negro with a shotgun. The negro, it is said, attempted to attack him. Brewer went to the house for his own gun and before his return the assailant was gone. The matter was reported to officers who found the negro several miles east of town Monday morning. He gave his name as Warren Madden and said that he lived near Spring Valley, a little village south of Tusculum in Colbert county. He said that he meant no harm but was in the habit of "funnying people with his gun." The suspect was placed in jail in Moulton,

however, and it seems that probably

he is crazy; the only weapon he had about his person when captured was a stick.
